

Job advertisement

The Swiss Shotokan Karate-Do Federation (SSKF) has been practising classical dojo karate since 2005, but also competitive karate at international level in 16 Swiss dojos. Our dojos have been supporting young up-and-coming athletes for years in their further development and especially in their careers at international competition level. Competitive athletes from the SSKF have been able to win successes at international open tournaments, but also at events of the WKF.

The SSKF would like to further strengthen young and competitive sports and is looking for a

National Coach and Head-Coach Competitive Sports for competition karate with focus on kumite

The national trainer and head coach is involved in our association, but also in the affiliated dojos by

- selecting and motivating talented up-and-coming athletes for the junior squad.
- promoting members of the junior squad in regular central training sessions and, based on a development concept to be drawn up, introducing to top-level international competitions.
- recognizing talents in the junior squad, promoting and specifically transferring to the field of competitive sports.
- strengthening competitive athletes in regular training sessions with regard to their individual development and preparing for international top-level tournaments.
- coaching and accompanying competitive sportsmen and women on as well as alongside the Tatami (e.g. in questions of training, nutrition, family, etc.).
- coaching and accompanying athletes at national and international competitions according to the competition schedule of the SSKF.
- participating in the development of the SSKF association by serving on the technical commission
- keeping and using relations with national and international organisations to promote talent and competitive athletes at national and/or international level.
- planning, organising and conducting international training courses both in Switzerland and abroad.

Our offer

- Unlimited full-time position (100%) from 01 September 2020 or by agreement
- A familiar karate environment with high ambitions and motivation in the area of young and competitive sports
- Willingness to invest in the development of competitive sport and openness to new ideas and necessary changes
